SOUTH BRUNSWICK WOMEN'S COMMISSION ANNOUNCES 25TH ANNUAL WOMEN'S LEADERSHIP & CAREER PATHWAYS CONFERENCE

Summary: The South Brunswick Women's Commission announces their 25th Annual Women's Leadership & Career Pathways Conference.

South Brunswick Township, NJ (February 18): The South Brunswick Women's Commission has announced that the 25th annual Women's Leadership & Pathways Conference has been scheduled for Saturday, March 18, 2023 at the South Brunswick Municipal Complex Campus, 540 Ridge Road, Monmouth Junction from 8 am to 1 pm.

This year's keynote speaker is Hala Tala, the host of the Young & Profiting Podcast (<https://youngandprofiting.com>) and CEO of YAP Media, a full-service production and marketing agency for top podcasters, celebrities, and business leaders.

"The South Brunswick Commission on Women works to help our town's young women become tomorrow's leaders. The Commission also works to address serious issues such as domestic violence prevention and access to educational opportunities. A key part of this is to give our young people the opportunity to interact with successful public and private sector female leaders. This year's conference continues that record of achievement." said Councilwoman Archana "Ann" Grover.

The South Brunswick Task Force on Women's Leadership was founded in 1996 and renamed in 2000 as the South Brunswick Commission on Women.

The South Brunswick Commission on Women is run on a volunteer basis. Members consist of adults and high school students and are appointed by the Mayor. Each spring, the Commission sponsors a Women's Leadership Conference bringing together female students and adults, as well as leaders from South Brunswick and beyond; all working toward the common goal of turning today's young women into tomorrow's leaders.

"There are many serious issues facing women at home, in education, in the workplace, you name it. It is important that our community maintains a platform where women can come together, share their experiences, develop solutions, and serve as a forum for helping women of all ages meet these challenges. I look forward to the upcoming Women's Leadership & Pathway Conference as well as to the continued outstanding work that the volunteers of this Commission in service to the women of South Brunswick Township." said Councilwoman Jo Hochman.

This year's conference is open to all South Brunswick students as well as all Township residents. For more information, and to register go to <https://sbcommissiononwomen.org/> and scan the QR Code.
