Jane Stuart is as complete a jazz singer as they come. She has the timing of a tap dancer, the emotive responsiveness of a stage performer, a voice for the ages, and the experience to put it all together into one unified whole. She has been singing, acting and dancing professionally since she was 12 years old and went from 'show biz' kid to the present with a vast career in many areas of show business. Some of this journey has included acting, performing and recording with amazing talents such as: Bernadette Peters, Richard Gere, Thad Jones, Mel Lewis, Valerie Simpson, Patti Austin, Barry Manilow, Roland Hanna, George Mraz, Woody Shaw, Jon Faddis, Shawn Colvin, Charlie Smalls (composer of The Wiz), Paul Shaeffer and "Blue Lou" Marini (Blues Brothers) among many others. Her credits are for Off Broadway, Television, The N.Y. Shakespeare Festival Jazz Theatre, singing on many National commercials/jingles such as Chevrolet Heartbeat Of America, Bain de Soleil, Stetson Cologne (to name a few), singing with her own group in jazz clubs, concert halls, jazz festivals, private events and presenting programs at libraries in the NJ/NY area for over 15 years. She will be accompanied by Gary Haberman (Musical director/arranger and pianist), Rob Cochran (Bass), and Rick De Kovessey (Drums/vocals/spouse).
